Modesto Library to offer residential real estate program series

The Modesto Library, in partnership with local realtor Cyndy Hackett, will offer the monthly residential real estate program series entitled "Real Talk Real Estate," the first of which will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 12 at 6 p.m. Prospective home buyers or sellers can gain insight into the real estate market with this free program.

The Sept. 12 program is designed to help guide participants on the path to home buying and selling. Hackett will discuss the current change in the market from a seller's market to a more balanced market. Future topics in the series include a program about escrow on Wednesday, Oct. 10 at 6 p.m., and an investing program on Wednesday, Nov. 26 at 6 p.m.

"The highs and lows of the housing market can be complicated to navigate. This program lets our customers have access to a real estate professional to guide them through the decision making process of buying and selling," said Vicki Salinas, reference librarian.

A question and answer session will follow the program. For more information, please contact the Modesto Library Reference Department at 209-558-7814. Information on upcoming programs in this series will be posted on the library website, www.stanislauslibrary.org, under the "Events and Classes" tab. Information on regularly occurring programs can also be found on the Stanislaus County Library website.

Real Talk Real Estate will be held in the Modesto Library auditorium, located in the basement at 1500 I St. Free parking is available in the parking lot behind the library and on surrounding streets.
