Denair Library to offer crochet classes for beginners

Community members interested in learning to crochet will have an opportunity for free lessons at the Denair Library beginning this month.

On Saturday, Nov. 17 from 2 to 4 p.m., library staff will teach participants basic crochet techniques. The library will provide yarn for use during the program, however participants are asked to bring their own crochet hooks.

“We are excited for our new crochet class in Denair because it has the potential to bring our community together with a sincere, common interest. We have already received an awesome amount of enthusiasm from customers of all ages who plan to start attending the class in November,” said Paden Hardy, Denair Library supervisor.

The Denair Library joins other Stanislaus County Library locations offering free crochet and knitting classes, including the Patterson and Waterford Libraries. This month’s crochet class at the Patterson Library will be held on Friday, Nov. 9 at 3 p.m. and the Waterford Library’s knit and crochet classes are held on Wednesdays at 3 p.m.

The Denair Library is located at 4801 Kersey Road. For more information, please contact Paden Hardy at 209-634-1283. Information about regularly occurring library programs can be found at www.stanislauslibrary.org, under the “Events and Classes” tab.
