Beat the heat with crafts at the Keyes Library

All ages can cool off with drop-in crafts at the library this August

Crafters of all ages can escape the summer heat with three drop-in crafts at the Keyes Library this August.

On Thursday, Aug. 16, children can visit the library to make school bus photo frames from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Craft sticks and decorative wheels will be provided for children to assemble their colorful frames. Magnets will be added to the back of the frames so that children may display their back to school pictures on their refrigerators or lockers.

Adults and teens can get crafty with a program on Friday, Aug. 17 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The library will provide a variety of decorative ribbons for crafters to use to make bows to wear in the hair, or clipped on as accessories.

All ages can take part in the craft on Thursday, Aug. 30 from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Participants will stack and glue together buttons of different shapes, colors and sizes to make button animals.

“The back to school season is a busy time of year for children, teens, and adults alike,” said Christine Ryu, Keyes Library supervisor. “By offering drop-in crafts this August, we are making our programs more accessible to our customers and giving them a relaxing and creative outlet.”

Interested parties are invited to drop in for these crafts at their convenience. The drop-in nature of the programs allows crafters of all skill levels to work on the crafts at their pace.

The Keyes Library is located at 4420 Maud Ave. For more information about programs at the Keyes Library, please call the Keyes Library supervisor, Christine Ryu, at 209-664-8006. Information on regularly occurring library programs can be found at www.stanislauslibrary.org, under the “Events and Classes” tab.
